BRIEFLETS.

—Look out for the tall boy.

—G. A. H. men all smile, these days.

—Hiram D. Murdoch smiles and says it is a girl.

—Read Vaukirk Bros.' price list in this evening's Gazette.

—Regular meeting of the common council on Monday evening.

—The "Queen of the Seasons" next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

—See the bad boy and his pranks at Lappin's opera house next Monday night.

—A new hard wood floor is being put in the office of Danwidie & Goldin, attorneys at law.

—Thos. Mackin is laying a new concrete walk in front of his West Milwaukee street property.

—The operetta of Red Riding Hood will occur Tuesday evening, September 3d, with a matinee Wednesday afternoon.

—Organ recital by Mrs. J. W. Bintliff assisted by Prof. C. K. Hunt, violinist, on Tuesday evening at the Congregational church.

—The Magnet has just received a line of silk panels in black and colors, also a line of fast-black hose. See ad. on Monday.

—Wm. F. Carle, for many years employed in the lumber yard of David Jeffries, died suddenly this afternoon aged 35 years.

—Found—On West Milwaukee street, a gold ring from the face of a watch. The owner may have the same by calling on P. E. Frink, at the Fountain Oyster Store.

—Agent Samuels sold over thirty Grad Army excursion tickets to Milwaukee this morning. With this as a starter, what will he do next Monday morning?

—The project for a union slaughterhouse is not seriously considering by the butchers of the city, many anticipating that Chicago dressed beef will soon be placed in the markets of this city.

—The trial in the case of Richardson against Lane has finally come to an end. After hearing an abundance of testimony and arguments by counsel, the jury found for the plaintiff for the full amount of his claim.

—The butchers and meat dealers were in consultation last evening, a meeting at Sam. Henderson's market, South Main street. The slaughter house question was the topic under discussion, but no definite action was taken.

—Leave orders for Chicago Herald (delivered by special carrier), at Lawrence's bookstore or telephone No. 58; also any complaints of non-delivery or negligence.

B. B. REXFORD, Agent.

—Rev. G. W. White, of Beloit, will exchange pulpits with Rev. G. H. Trever, of the Court Street M. E. church of this city, to-morrow morning and evening. Mr. White is said to be an earnest and interesting speaker.

—No definite track of the burglars who entered Holmes' store has been found. The officers have been making a faithful but unsuccessful attempt to find the boat used by them in getting up to the rear end of the store.

—Thoroughgood & Co. have now about two million feet of lumber stacked up in their lumber yards on North Main street. This will all be manufactured into cigar boxes or cigar box lumber within the next twelve months.

—A return game of base ball was played at Milton yesterday between the All-American Juniors of this city and the Milton nine. The result was a victory for the All-Americans, the score standing 8 to 6 in their favor. It was a close and interesting game.

—Yesterday ex-Sheriff H. L. Skavlem and F. F. Peterson were at Lake Koshong, and succeeded in capturing eighty-six birds, seventy-four being jacksnipe. They came home last evening with high spirits and a best-of-they-can expression of contentment.

—Chief Blunk, of the fire department, took out a portion of the fire department last evening and wet down the court house park. The boys put a large quantity of water on the grass, but the ground was so dry and hard that most of it found its way to the gutters on Main street.

—A novel scheme in window decoration is to be found at the Fountain Oyster Store. It is nothing less than a field of growing tobacco. Of course it is not a large field, but all the elements of a large field are there. The growing tobacco, well tended and almost ready to be put into the shed, makes a novel and pretty window dressing.

—The genial stage driver, Andrew Stoker, had another load of excursionists in town to-day. This time they all came from Emerald Grove and were young ladies whom Mr. Stoker had invited to take in the sights of the Bower City with him. The girls have had a good time and succeeded in making it exceedingly lively for Mr. Stoker.

—Some unknown man attempted to force his way into the residence of Mr. J. C. Hemmens, of the fourth ward, one day this week, during the absence of the members of the family. He was noticed by the neighbors, and said he was after a stove. He failed to gain an entrance, and disappeared, and nothing has been seen or heard of him since.

—The great naval battle in Milwaukee Thursday evening of next week, will take place on the lake front directly in front of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company's depot, where seats have been arranged for 50,000 spectators. The train leaves Janeville at 6:15 a. m., arriving in Milwaukee at 9:30 a. m., leaving Janeville at 1:20 p. m., arriving in Milwaukee at 4:10 p. m.

—Several parties residing in the neighborhood of the court house park feel like getting right up on the court house steps and giving cordial thanks to County Clerk W. F. Williams, as an expression of their appreciation of his services in mulching the shade trees on the county's portion of the park. "They say" that the city ought to follow suit, and save the trees before it is too late.

—Frank Webster has one of his windows dressed in a novel manner, in fact it seems to be dressed in pants. Several bolts of cloth are so draped as to represent several enormous pairs of trousers. They (the trousers) appear to be large enough to fit Jack the Giant Killer, and even the giant himself. Yet Mr. Webster

But few acts of the legislature have elicited such a general approval as the Cooper election law enacted last winter. The growing demand for a ballot reform that should, while insuring the absolute secrecy of the ballot, provide for an absolute safe-guard against all possible fraud, led Senator H. A. Cooper to introduce a bill that will meet with the public favor. It is believed that the law provides for every emergency and in order that the practical working of the law may be easily seen, the Racine Journal, published at the home of Senator Cooper, has carefully prepared an elaborate description of the different provisions of the law, illustrated with two large size cuts, plainly showing the practical operation on election day. There seems to be some misunderstanding as to the workings of this act, and some ignorance as to its provisions. The common council at their meeting on Monday evening, will have to create two election precincts in the first, second and third wards, in accordance with this law, and before an election is held, provide eight election booths. The following description, however, taken from the Racine Journal, will make everything plain:

The accompanying cuts represent the plan for a room 20x24 feet may be fitted for balloting in accordance with the new law.

The same general plans can be adopted to rooms of different dimensions. The room is divided by a guard rail into two portions, the public being kept on the outside.

The guard rail is required by law to be not less than five feet from both the ballot box and voting shelves.

Inside the rail are two tables, one to accommodate the ballots to be given out, and a check list upon which the names of those receiving ballots are checked; another to contain a corresponding check list where the names of those depositing ballots are checked. The exit and entrance through the rail are marked on the cut.

As the voter enters the room at the door, he passes to the right to the entrance through the rail. Here, if his name appears on the check list, he receives an official ballot upon which the names of the candidates with the name of their party, are arranged in alphabetical order. The following is the form of the ballot. The names are those of candidates at the election held in this city last April.
